LET'S TALK BRUDERHOLZ!

An open English breakfast for everyone who lives in the Bruderholz neighbourhood – whether you've been here for a lifetime or just arrived recently.

We'll start with a short conversation with Kathy Hartmann-Campbell, who brings many years of experience in intercultural integration and has worked closely with expats in Switzerland.

After that, you're invited to join table conversations in a relaxed World Café setting – moderated by both locals and expats – where we exchange ideas, stories and experiences.

WHAT IS A WORLD CAFÉ?

The World Café is a simple format designed to make conversation easy and meaningful. Participants sit in small groups around tables and talk about questions that touch on life in different cultures, everyday experiences, and what it means to arrive – or to already belong.

The focus isn't just on life in Bruderholz, but on wider themes: What helps us feel at home? What challenges do we face? What can we learn from each other?

After 20 to 25 minutes, everyone switches tables to join new conversations with new people. Each table discussion is guided either by an expat or a local host.

You don't need to bring anything – just come with time, curiosity and an open mind.

English breakfast is provided. For planning purposes, we would appreciate your registration via QR-Code.
